This project was originally designed and built in the late 19th Century by Gibson and Russell, a team of architects known for a mild-Baroque style. Fast forward to today and this dramatic building has been exquisitely restored by award winning architects Apt (formerly known as Robin Partington & Partners).

While the magnificent original victorian red brick facade has been meticulously restored, once inside you will find a truly luxurious living experience. Carefully designed interiors and outstanding residents' amenities, give this project a sense of opulence and magic that's in a class of its own. All apartments are complimented by a bespoke concierge service and intimate gym and training studio.
