If you're in the market for a new home and your eyes are set on London, look no further than this project. This phenomenal development, a collaborative effort between housing developments and the Greater London Authority, is setting new standards in urban living. You get to choose from 1, 2, and 3-bedroom apartments, as well as a select range of 3-bedroom duplex apartments and maisonettes.

What makes this project even more remarkable is its affordability. With 241 new homes up for grabs, 47 of them are earmarked for affordable rent and another 48 for shared ownership. But here's the clincher: it's a ground rent-free development. Imagine, affordable properties to buy without the sting of extra costs!
