Kaštel Sućurac is a small place rich in history located between the cities of Split and Trogir. In the center of the town is the oldest defensive tower in Kaštela from the 14th century, which, through a series of additional interventions, became a settlement by the sea.

There is also a hiking trail nearby that leads to the Putalj mountain lodge at the foot of Kozjak, from where you can follow the trails to the Malačka Mountain Lodge above Trogir. Because of all this, this area is an ideal location for lovers of recreation.
