This villa seamlessly integrates with its lush surroundings, featuring greenery and vistas of the sea and Sierra Cortina. The native-vegetation side garden connects different levels, while a detailed gardening project offers optional natural grass installation. Distinct materials define each floor: natural limestone for Floor 0, monolayer and Majorcan shutters for Floor 1, and textured monolayer for Floor 2. This fusion creates a strong Mediterranean aesthetic blending tradition, modern architecture, and nature. Pedestrian paths use grey-toned ceramic tiles and printed concrete for parking. Optional protective pergolas are available. The property's perimeter includes reinforced concrete walls and metal fencing, with gabion walls internally. The side garden links to the lower plot and prioritizes privacy for Floor 0. Majorcan shutters in a metallic wood-effect finish provide a dynamic facade, adapting to residents' needs and enhancing energy efficiency. Finestrat is a sought-after destination, offering a select village experience with proximity to essential services, emphasizing landscape, comfort, and sustainability. The complex's well-connected location is easily accessible via AP-7, N-332, or CV-767. Close to Benidorm, Altea, and Villajoyosa, it provides diverse leisure activities, including golf, hiking, water sports, and cultural events. *Prices exclude VAT. Delivery date: October 2025
