Recently renovated, this 93 m² property is located in a privileged location. It has 2 bedrooms, one of them with en-suite bathroom, and kitchen equipped with high-end appliances. It is offered fully furnished with custom-made designer furniture in wood, complemented by air conditioning and ambient LED lighting. The neighborhood of Sol is the most central of Madrid's neighborhoods, a reference of all peninsular and urban distances. Its name derives from its central square, Puerta del Sol, where the Kilometer Zero Plaque is located. In this area, which some call Sol-Gran Vía, we find many of the main attractions of the city. Some of them are inside Puerta del Sol itself, others in its vicinity. Its commercial areas are among the busiest, sometimes even crowded.
