Dubrovnik, a beautiful renovated stone house is located in the historical center of the city of Dubrovnik.

The property consists of a ground floor, two floors, and an attic with a total area of 209 m².

The ground floor consists of an entrance area, a guest toilet, a room with a dining table, a bar, a chimney, a kitchen, and a separate large room with a storage room and a laundry room.

The first floor consists of a spacious living room with a fireplace and bar and a staircase leading to the upper floor. The second floor consists of two bedrooms and two bathrooms, and a loft with two beds, a bathroom, and a kitchenette.

The house in question originally dates from the 17th century and has the status of a cultural monument, and its complete adaptation was carried out in 2002.

The building is located near the northern entrance to the old city center and as such has a great advantage. The house is rented for tourist purposes and generates excellent income. It is the property of the company that is the subject of the sale.
