This typical 19th century house has been recently restored, preserving the classic Tuscan character, including the home automation system.

Access is via a gravel road approximately 1km long leading to two entrances.

The property, with a total area of 590 sq.m., is divided into a main farmhouse of approximately 315 sq.m. and two additional residential units.

One building currently functions as a reception area with a reception on the ground floor, a bathroom and breakfast room, a studio on the second floor and a technical room in the basement.

The second building contains four more studio apartments, each with its own patio and direct access to the pool.

The main villa is spread over three floors and includes an entrance into the living area with a living room, dining room, kitchen and guest bathroom.

On the second floor there are two double bedrooms with en suite bathrooms and a second living room with direct access to the terrace overlooking Montepulciano.

There is a 14 x 7 sea water swimming pool, a garden with olive trees and lavender, a small vegetable garden and parking.

In addition, the two annexes feature heat pumps for hot/cold air conditioning, underfloor heating, gas central heating for the main villa, Tuscan fireplaces, solar panels for electricity and hot water.
