homonymous agricultural company. It consists of an ancient farmhouse with an adjacent barn, which together are divided into 8 apartments, within a park-garden created with classic Mediterranean shrubs and stone walls. Each apartment has an independent entrance and a garden. The structure is equipped with an open terrace with a swimming pool and parking, as well as a common area for tasting the company's products. The Agricultural Company owns all the equipment necessary for winemaking and owns the brands that produce and market the wine from the property's vineyards. The direct activity can therefore be easily reactivated.

Villa:

The villa is built on the remains of a farmhouse dating back to medieval times (formerly a convent) raised on two above-ground floors and a semi-basement floor. The location is very panoramic and immersed among the olive groves and woods of the company. Nearby is one of the 3 company lakes. The structure has 5 apartments located on various floors of the building, one of which occupies an entire floor with a very large lounge, and is accompanied by a large park on which two outdoor pools, a tennis court, and a playground are located.

Restaurant:

The property consists of 2 units: a restaurant with high-quality furnishings and finishes, with an attached industrial kitchen (prepared for over 200 covers) and a former cellar used as a warehouse. The entire building is surrounded by a park adjacent to two of the company's lakes and has ideal outdoor spaces for ceremonies and conferences. Possible areas/courtyards can be set up with pergolas.

Castelfalfi is a renowned Tuscan village for its beauty and history. In fact, this village has Etruscan origins and later underwent medieval influence as it was chosen by the kings of the time as a military fortress. The Italian noble house of de' Medici also settled in this village, choosing it as their dwelling and consequently carrying out renovations to the Castle. Today, there are activities to experience such as the well-known Golf Club Castelfalfi, Adventure Park Castelfalfi, Wine Tours, culinary experiences at famous starred restaurants, and excursions in the midst of nature. Furthermore, it is a village subject to important redevelopment projects aimed at enhancing the place while preserving its natural beauty.
