It is characterised by the quality and cleanliness of its beaches, a privileged microclimate and a multitude of activities to enjoy at any time: theme parks, shops of all kinds, nightlife, hiking... It is also known as the "New York of the Mediterranean" thanks to the large number of skyscrapers that make up the city. In addition to enjoying a dream climate, Benidorm has numerous points of interest, the island of Benidorm (or island of journalists), the Sierra Helada natural park, or the viewpoint (better known as the castle of Benidorm), are some of the most emblematic places of the city. Not forgetting, of course, the beaches of Poniente beach, Levante beach and the Mal Pas cove, which are one of Benidorm's main attractions. Levante and Poniente are two of Benidorm's majestic beaches of fine sand, perfect for enjoying a sun and beach holiday. In addition, the promenade has numerous restaurants and shops to satisfy all the needs of the city's tourists. In addition, Alicante airport is just 40 minutes away.
