Has 100% tailor-made wooden French doors, windows and pergolas. Has access to a pool. Enjoys green gardens and pleasant surrounding areas, full of existing and planted flowers and trees, respecting the local flora (mainly lemon trees and olive trees). Has access to gardens, terraces, yards and communal areas All communal and outdoor spaces fully tiled and planted, with clear paths leading to every home. Douliana is a traditionally preserved community situated on a hill overlooking Souda Bay. Around the village you can find natural surroundings of extreme beauty, including enormous cypresses and oaks. Douliana has been a popular place of residence and a prosperous community since the 18th century, and it has maintained its character more than any other community in the area. This is mainly due to the local population taking great care in preserving the historical monuments and traditional buildings of the community. As a result, the long history of both the Apokoronas region and the island of Crete are apparent and reflected throughout the settlement. This is also one of the main reasons other than the weather and natural beauty, of course for which numerous foreigners have chosen to live permanently in the village during the last decade.
