Samujana is located on a gentle hillside, allowing each villa in the resort to have panoramic views of the sea and nearby islands, as well as access to a small and private beach. The unique design and orientation of the villas create an additional atmosphere of privacy. Particular attention was paid to preserving the natural ecology of the site; Some trees and rock formations are included in the design of the villas, giving them character and uniqueness. The resort has its own entrance from the main road. From the resort's security gate, access is exclusively for guests and residents.
