About Beykoz

Beykoz is located on the banks of the Bosphorus in the Asian part of the city. The Beykoz district is the pearl of the Bosphorus, one of the most green areas of the city.

Beykoz has a long coastline along the Bosphorus and the Black Sea.

Beykoz is near the Fatih Sultan Mehmet Bridge, which is also known as the second bridge among people living in Istanbul. Kavaçik is the area where the bridge ends. You can see tall office buildings, cafes, restaurants, but if you drive just 10 minutes from the center, you will see that Beykoz has many historical sights left over from the Ottoman era.

Beykoz was a forgotten area for a long time, but a few years ago, the revival of this part of the city began. Active gardening and building houses with a laconic design. First, all factories were closed, new parks for leisure and recreation were equipped, then many luxurious large houses and villas appeared on the green hills of Beykoz.
