It is a brand new project of 18 residential stone houses with pools. The complex is located on the touristic area of the Tersana village, 30 minutes away from the center of Chania. Altera Pars is a unique oasis of prestigious stone houses with swimming pools for people united by a single idea: living luxurious! This is an ideal place for family athletic and recreation activities, where everyone will find something to their liking!

The modern architecture of the stone house gives a real feeling of home comfort, security, and harmony. The architects of our company ensured, not only the external balance of the form, but also the quality of the content.

Concept

The idea of the complex arose from the natural landscape. On the territory of an almost flat land plot, we designed and placed individual residential buildings with unique view. All houses will be built from white-beige natural stone, which is extracted from the local Cretan quarry. The characteristic appearance of the residences is the natural hand-hewn stone with wooden elements and use of glass in the decoration, creating a unique atmosphere and comfort.

Block A1 & A2

Total area of both plots of this block: 4.038,61 m²

About location

Tersanas (i.e. boatyard) is a small coastal village located 13 km northeast of Chania and hidden in a small cove on the west side of Cape Akrotiri. It is actually the harbor of village Chorafakia, located just 1km to the north. The area is well developed and is a popular destination for holidays.

The beach of Tersanas is shaped inside an enclosed natural harbor, which faces southwest. It is a sandy beach with white fine sand and shallow crystal clear water. It is quite small and looks usually crowded, especially on weekends. It is equipped with umbrellas, sunbeds, snack bar and showers. The calm water, combined with the proximity to the touristic facilities, make Tersanas ideal for family holidays.
