The first residential complex in Turkey with a unique ecosystem is located in the heart of the Topkapi district, the European part of Istanbul. The project consists of 16 residential blocks, each with five to fifteen floors. A total of 1441 apartments, layouts from 1 + 1 to 5 + 1. From 78 to 232 sq.m. Each apartment has either a balcony, a terrace or a garden. The facility is built using natural, environmentally friendly materials. Separately, we note the atypical height of the ceilings - 3.05m. What visually adds space and "air". As well as sliding glass interior doors. Topkapi is the historical heart of Istanbul. The residential complex is surrounded by medical and educational institutions, shopping and business centers. Proximity to public transport stops is another big plus.
