The luxury project consists of villas and is located on the coast of the picturesque Gököy Bay, surrounded by a pine forest. The Bodrum area is often chosen by the Turkish beau monde for living. Bodrum is rightfully considered the main tourist center of Turkey, where guests from all over the world and the elite of Turkish society annually gather. The project was created by the famous architect Emre Arolat. He designed the complex in such a way as not to destroy the natural landscape. As a result, pine and olive trees have been preserved on the site. Panoramic windows look out onto Gököy Bay, and the elegant facades of the villas blend perfectly with the hilly area. Furniture, fittings, interior design thought out to the smallest detail and selected in accordance with the concept of the entire complex. The landscape design was developed by the German designer and architect Herman Salm, who created a unique and cozy space around the complex. The creators of the project entrusted its management to the world's leading international operator in the hospitality and SPA industry - Banyan Tree. Based on her successful experience, she offers residents a variety of services, from dry cleaning and butler service to private chef and catering for residents' celebrations. Milas-Bodrum International Airport can be reached in 35 minutes, and there are several private and public hospitals within a 15-20 minute drive from the property. It takes 15 minutes to go for a walk in the Yüksel Çağlar Hatıra Ormanı nature reserve, and the municipal beach of Bodrum is located 10 minutes. The way to the federal highway D330, which will allow you to quickly get to anywhere in Turkey, will take 14 minutes. The residential complex consists of 38 villas, the area of which varies from 436 to 1226 square meters. The facility covers an area of 40 thousand square meters.
