Your attention is presented to a new residential development, which is being built in one of the most prestigious areas of Istanbul - Nisantasi. Integrated development is the most important criterion for this object. On an area of 97,000 square meters there is everything you need for a comfortable life for the whole family. The residential complex includes 62 apartments, 99 offices and even a hotel with 146 rooms, as well as a shopping center and parking for 600 cars. And this is only a part of the facilities located on the territory of the complex. The developer offers both residential and commercial premises. If you are interested in purchasing commercial premises, the complex has retail space that is ideal for boutiques and branded stores, as well as for cafes and restaurants. Only the building of the shopping center looks like a cultural heritage site. Each floor of the center is decorated in a unique style and thought out to the smallest detail. One of the subway exits leads visitors directly to the third level of the shopping center. Its entire area is equipped with a gallery.
