We are pleased to present you one of the new objects of complex development. It is being built in Nisantasi, which is considered a fairly prestigious area of the Turkish city of Istanbul. The main phrase in this description is complex development. And all because on a huge area of 97,000 m2 there will be everything that is required for a comfortable stay and an interesting pastime. The complex includes many important objects: apartments of different sizes - 62 units; spacious and equipped with everything necessary office space - 99 units; cozy hotel with 146 rooms; a huge shopping center, where goods from around the world are presented; convenient parking for 600 cars. And this is far from a complete list of what will be in the complex being built. The developer planned to equip several playgrounds inside, special areas where people can relax, walk, play sports. There is no doubt that there will be enough space for all this. The location of the future complex says a lot. It is unlikely that you will be able to find a more central point in Istanbul. It is only 5 minutes to Taksim district, 10 minutes to Mecizhiköy, 15 minutes to Zinchirlikuyu, 18 minutes to Levent. But the airport "Istanbul" can be reached in 40 minutes. Medical and educational facilities are within walking distance. The facility under construction provides for the restoration of historical objects that are located on its territory. Therefore, developers and architects had to develop a style that would not stand out too much against the background of nearby buildings. But the new buildings will meet all current standards, including comfort.
